

Powered by

 Click to Print

SAVE THIS | EMAIL THIS | Close

Laptops, earrings: eBay typos can save you money

YouNewsTV™

Story Published: Jul 11, 2008 at 3:21 PM PDT
Story Updated: Jul 11, 2008 at 3:56 PM PDT

By Angelica Thornton and KATU Web Staff

Video

PORTLAND, Ore. - Did you know that a few misspelled words on eBay can spell big bargains for online shoppers?

Every day hundreds, perhaps thousands, of people unknowingly sabotage their auctions by not checking for typos or misspellings.

You can find lots of bargains, and little or no competition, by typing in commonly misspelled brands.

There are also Web sites that specialize in helping you find these deals:

- Auction Bloopers
- Missing-Auctions.com
- Typo Buddy

If you are an eBay seller and are frustrated that no one is bidding on your stuff, let this be a lesson - get a dictionary or at least use the free spell check that eBay provides.

Find this article at:

<http://www.katu.com/news/24536474.html>

 Click to Print

SAVE THIS | EMAIL THIS | Close

Check the box to include the list of links referenced in the article.

©2007 KATU-TV. All Rights Reserved.